A Memory From Atatürk

The year was 1936. Atatürk invited the king of United Kingdom, The 8th Edward to a dinner on Dolmabahçe, Istanbul. After all guests came, Atatürk called his aide and made this request: "Please go and find me someone who has knowledge about dinners in England." After aide found a person, they learned from that person what a dinner would be like in England and set the table according to that information. After dinner started, The King of United Kingdom, Edward said to Atatürk: "Congratulations and thank you. I almost felt like i was in England" The Turkish waiters were serving the food and one of them got excited by this conversation and he dropped the plate on the floor and all the food he was carrying spilled on to the ground. While guests were in shock, Atatürk said to Edward with leaning forward." I taught this nation everything but i couldn't teach any servanthood." All of the guests and Edward was impressed by those words and got effected by Atatürk's Intelligence. After that Atatürk ordered the waiter to continue his job kindly. While dinner ended with this incident.

Whoever said that school is a sleep fest has never stepped foot in our corridors!
Our school is all about learning, but it's also about having fun.
We have a calendar full of amazing events such as TÜBİTAK, Spring Fest, Theater Auditions, Teacher Appreciation Day, as well as epic tournaments such as volleyball, chess, football and table tennis.
Trust us, there's never a dull moment here!

Indian dosa is a staple dish all over the country, but some believe that dosa comes from the southern Indian state of Tamil Nadu. 1 AD for the first time in Tamil literature.

I N D I A N D O S A

It is an ancient dish that has been mentioned for centuries. Some claim that it is connected with Udupi (present-day Karnataka) because of the association with Udupi restaurants. Usually dosa is consumed as a savory dish, eaten for breakfast, dinner or as a quick snack. Because it has a fairly neutral taste, dosa is an ideal accompaniment to many delicious Indian dishes, such as meat and vegetable curries or chutney. Wheat flour, semolina, rice flour or soy milk are used in some regions to create lighter, varied and more interesting varieties of dosa. This ancient Indian artifact, in its numerous forms, is found all over India, is sold by street vendors as a quick snack and is an irreplaceable item in traditional Indian restaurants.

Let's cook together !

Ingredients

1 cup idli rice (or basmati rice)

1/4 cup yellow lentils with a white crust

1/4 teaspoon salt

Water (to mix the dough)

Liquid oil (for frying)

Put the idli rice and yellow lentils with white shells in a bowl.

Add enough water to cover and soak for at least 4 hours, preferably overnight.

Drain the rice and lentils and grind them in a blender or mill until you get a smooth consistency.

You can add water to get the dough consistency.

Add salt and mix well.

The consistency of the dough should be similar to the pancake dough.

Leave the dough to one side to ferment for 6-8 hours at room temperature.

The volume of the dough will increase and light bubbles will form.

Heat a dosa pan over medium heat. Lightly grease the top of the pan.

Take a ladleful of the dough and pour it into the pan.

Spread the dosa dough in circular motions with the help of a spatula.

Drizzle a little oil over the dough.

Bake until the underside is slightly brown.

Then carefully turn it over with a spatula and fry the other side as well.

Repeat this process until all the dough is finished.

Serve the dosas hot.

"The Queen's Gambit", which broke the viewing record in our country, tells the by story of chess genius Beth Harmon, played Anya Taylor-Joy. Beth, who discovered chess in the child welfare institution where she was sent, began to participate in competitions by developing this talent after she was adopted, and over time, her path led to the world championship. If you haven't watched it yet, "The Queen's Gambit" is a production and leave a mark enough to make you spend Sunday playing chess on your phone.

4. From the Earth to the Moon (1998) – IMDB Score 8.6

Producer: Tom Hanks

Stars : Nick Searcy, Lane Smith, David Andrews, Stephen Root, Brett Cullen, Cary Elwes

"From the Earth to the Moon", which was selected as the Best Miniseries at the Emmy Awards in 1998, received nominations in almost every branch from cinematography to costume design, from make-up to music, in the miniseries category in the same year. The 12-episode production tells the story of Apollo, the most famous manned space program. The series, hosted by Tom Hanks, proceeds like a dramatized documentary; Fiction is presented intertwined with real images.

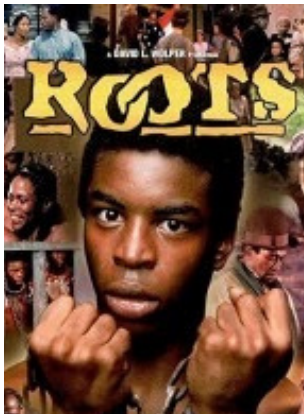

The series also brought Tom Hanks a nomination for Best Directing in the miniseries category. "From the Earth to the Moon", written by Graham Yost, also draws attention with its successful cast.

5. Big Little Lies (2017-2019) – IMDB Score 8.5

Producer: David E. Kelly

Stars : Reese Witherspoon, Nicole Kidman, Shailene Woodley, Alexander Skarsgard, Adam Scott, Zoe Kravitz, Laura Dern

"Big Little Lies", which was selected as Best Miniseries at the Emmy Awards in 2017, was originally planned as a single-season miniseries. However, due to popular demand, the second season was also shot and fortunately, the high managed to meet expectations. The production, which consists of 14 episodes in two seasons, is still a mini series that you can start and finish on the weekend. His story follows the stories of witnesses to a murder at the police station. A group of mothers in a small town, who seem to have perfect lives from the outside, turn out to be not so perfect after a murder. The series takes the classic "Which of these suspects is guilty and how did they commit the murder" concept from Agatha Christie novels or Sherlock Holmes stories and gives it an interesting modern texture. While in the classical genre the audience is made to approach everyone as if they were suspects, here we approach all the suspects as human beings; We are helped to understand their lives, personal problems and traumas. This leaves the heart of the story, "Who committed the murder and how?" It makes it the answer to the question "How did it get to that point?" rather than "what happened?". After a point, we almost think that we will be on the side of that character, no matter who killed him, rather than who killed him and how he killed him.

7. Roots (1977) – IMDB Score 8.4

Producers : Will Packer, Marc Toberoff, and Mark Wolper

Stars : LeVar Burton, Robert Reed, John Amos, Louis Gossett Jr., Lynda Day George, Olivia Cole, Madge Sincla

"Roots", which was selected as the Best Mini Series at the Emmy Awards in 1977, left its mark on the award ceremony and the year 1977 by receiving a total of nine awards and 28 nominations in the same year. From the enslavement of author Alex Haley's ancestor Kunta Kinte to the liberation of his descendants A dramatization of the family story that extends. Inspired by true stories, the mini series "The Roots" consists of eight episodes.

8. The White Lotus (2021-2022) – IMDB Score 7.9

Producer : Mike White

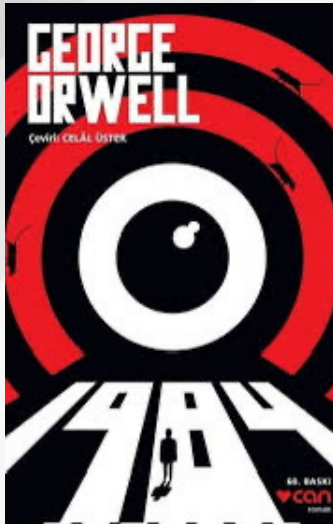

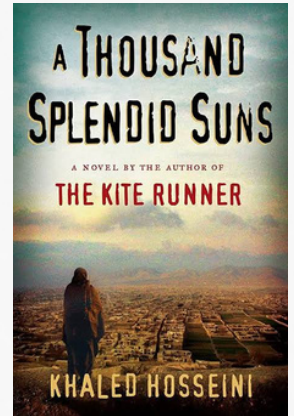

Stars : Jennifer Coolidge, Murray Bartlett, Connie Britton, Alexandra Daddario, Fred Hechinger, Sydney Sweeney, Steve Zahn, Jake Lacy, Brittany O'Grandy, Natasha Rothwell

"The White Lotus", which was selected as Best Mini Series in 2022 at the Emmy Awards, also received Best Director and Best Screenplay with Mike White, Best Supporting Actress with Jennifer Coolidge and Best Supporting Actor with Murray Bartlett, also in the mini series category. He won 10 Emmys, including The series, like many mystery productions, begins with a murder. But that's not exactly what it's about; At least that's not all. Set at a tropical resort in Hawaii, the series follows the lives of guests and staff over the course of a week. Created by Mike White, the production, which sometimes shifts from comedy to thriller, is also highly appreciated for its script.

Khaled Hosseini- A THOUSAND SPLENDID SUNS

The Afghan author's book, which is about the taboos of the society, is definitely a must-read! The book, which is about the inevitable exclusion and exploitation of women as a result of religious pressure and women's struggle to exist in a male-dominated society, confronts us with painful truths that we perhaps do not want to see. It is a book that will make you question our humanity at the end of the book and make you choke while reading it. While reading this book, you will not only read a book, but also the dark side of life.

LED ZEPPELIN : THE ROCK LEGEND

It's time to introduce you to the legendary Led Zeppelin. Led Zeppelin was a British rock band formed in London in 1968. The band was founded by the guitarist Jimmy Page and drummer John Bonham. It later featured Robert Plant as the lead vocalist and John Paul Jones on the keyboard. Led Zeppelin is known for its experimental and innovative style of music, which incorporated elements of blues and rock n' roll in early versions, and prog rock and heavy metal later on in their career. The band was famously known for its heavy use of the guitar, and their unique songs such as "Immigrant Song", has become classic rock anthems

The band was initially known for its live performances, but later on, they released some of the most groundbreaking records in the history of rock music. With their success came fame, which at times became problematic for them. Despite having a long career and many successes, the band also went through rough times with their members facing personal problems and the sudden death of their drummer.

In total, they had 12 studio albums and many hit songs like "Whole Lotta Love", "Kashmir", and "Stair Way to Heaven" among many others.

Led Zeppelin has been highly influential in the rock and roll scene and recognized as one of the most influential groups in the history. Many bands and artists have covered and sampled many of their works, and they have been inducted into the Rock n' Roll Hall Of Fame in 1995 and into the British Music Hall of Fame in 2005. This is just a few examples of their accolades, and their influence is still felt today.

SOLOMON ISLANDS

Language: English
Population: 652.857

Solomon Islands, country in the southwestern Pacific Ocean. It consists of a double chain of volcanic islands and coral atolls in Melanesia. The country comprises most of the Solomons chain—with the exception of Buka and Bougainville, two islands at the northwestern end that form an autonomous region of Papua New Guinea.

Once a British protectorate, Solomon Islands achieved independence as a republic in 1978. Honiara, on the north coast of Guadalcanal Island, is Solomon Islands' capital and largest city.

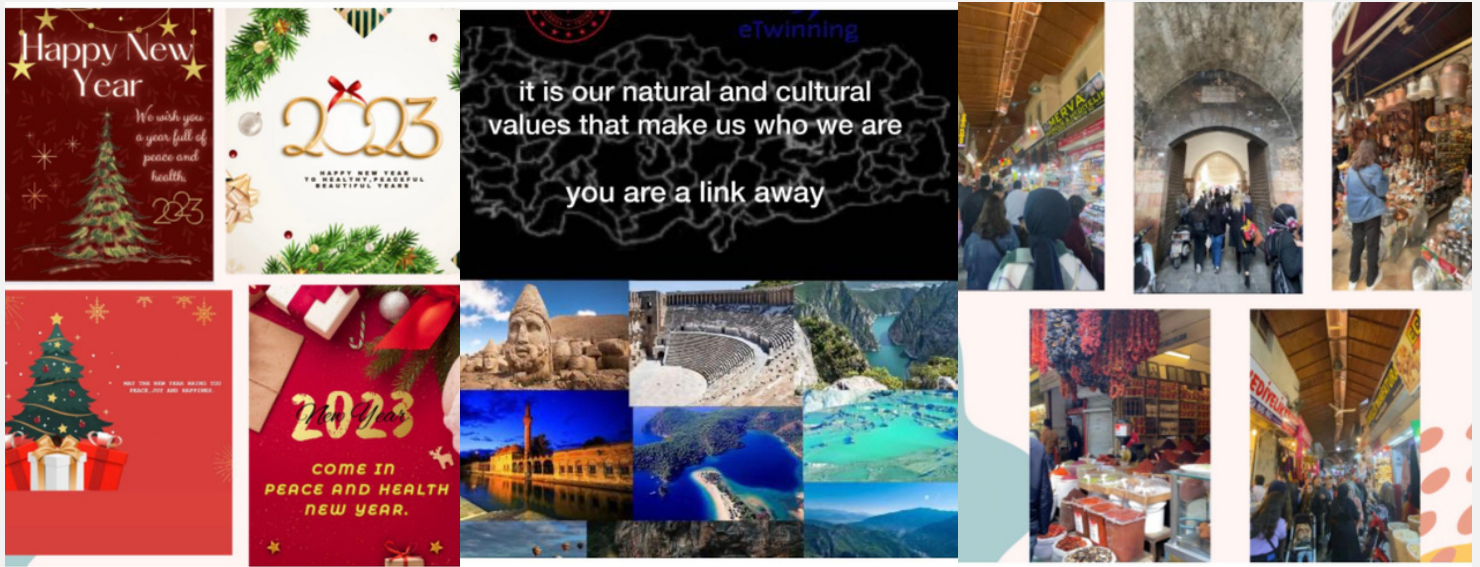

The climate is tropical oceanic—that is, hot and humid but relieved by cool winds and abundant, year-round rainfall.

Most of the people live in small rural villages. They engage mainly in subsistence gardening, pig raising, and fishing but are also involved in the cash economy.

Education is not compulsory. Schools are run both by the national and provincial governments and by various churches. Many secondary schools provide practical training in fields such as agriculture and development studies. There are several teacher-training schools and a technical institute, as well as a campus of the University of the South Pacific in Honiara. Some students attend universities overseas, especially in Fiji and Papua New Guinea. There is a hospital at Honiara.

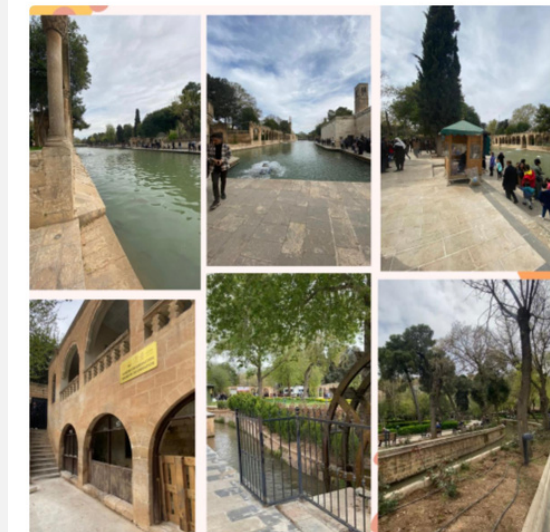

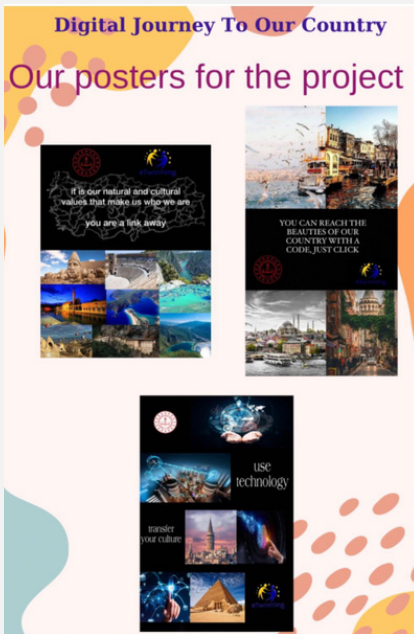

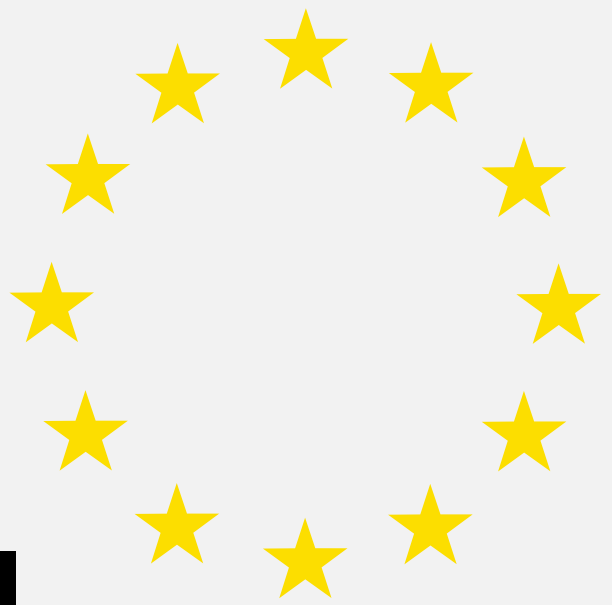

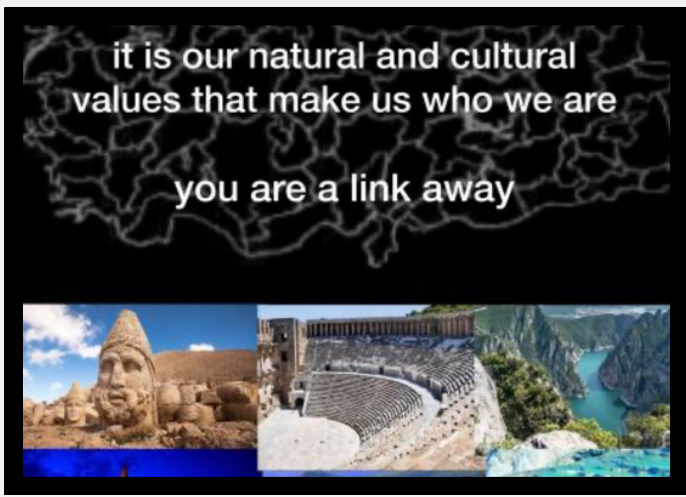

Our School's Award-Winning e-Twinning Project 'Digital Journey To Our Country'

We aim to enable our students to get to know their own culture and other cultures in our project.

We plan to start at the end of November, we aim for our students to prepare videos in which they introduce themselves and their schools, visit the historical places and museums around them, shoot videos about these places, and then digitize these videos with the QR code system. Each city has its own customs and folklore culture and our goal is to convey this in the best possible way. Weddings, funerals, gastronomy, historical and cultural venues of the cities will take place in our project.

Digital Journey To Our Country

In this project we aimed to spread cultural heritage to young learners and more, to integrate digital tools into learning, to provide with using students web 2.0 tools, to communicate with second language, to design QR code for learning cultural heritage, collaborate with other disciplines like; history, geography, ICT, music and more, to create awareness to everyone who sees our project, to spread cultures and lifestyle of each region, to celebrate common important days according to own culture.

WHAT IS ERASMUS+

Erasmus+ is the EU's programme to support education, training, youth and sport in Europe.

It has an estimated budget of €26.2 billion. This is nearly double the funding compared to its predecessor programme (2014-2020).

The 2021-2027 programme places a strong focus on social inclusion, the green and digital transitions, and promoting young people's participation in democratic life.

It supports priorities and activities set out in the European Education Area, Digital Education Action Plan and the European Skills Agenda. The programme also

- supports the European Pillar of Social Rights
- implements the EU Youth Strategy 2019-2027
- develops the European dimension in sport

Erasmus+ offers mobility and cooperation opportunities in

- higher education
- vocational education and training
- school education (including early childhood education and care)
- adult education
- youth
- sport
